USD 855 million contract at Dallas Fort Worth International Airport

HOCHTIEF subsidiary Turner is a member of “Innovation Next+ design-build team” that has been selected to provide a new concourse building and associated Skylink Station infrastructure

HOCHTIEF subsidiary Turner, the leading building construction management company in North-America, is a member of the “Innovation Next+ design-build team” that has been selected for the Dallas Fort Worth International Airport (DFW) Terminal F Concourse and Skylink Station Project. The USD 855 million project will provide a new concourse building and associated Skylink Station infrastructure on the Terminal F site. This new double-loaded (aircraft parking on both sides) concourse building is anticipated to measure around 37,000 square meters.

Terminal F construction is anticipated to commence June 2024 and is scheduled to be operational by the second quarter of 2027.

Innovation Next+ is composed of The Walsh Group - Walsh Construction & Archer Western, Turner Construction Company, Phillips May Corporation, H. J. Russell & Company, and CARCON INDUSTRIES, with PGAL, Gensler and Muller2 as design team members.

HOCHTIEF is an engineering-led global infrastructure group with leading positions across its core activities of construction, services and concessions/public-private partnerships (PPP) focused on Australia, North America and Europe. With around 37,000 employees and a sales volume of more than EUR 26 billion in 2022, HOCHTIEF's global presence is focused on developed markets. Via CIMIC, the Group is market leader in Australia. In the USA, HOCHTIEF is the No. 1 general builder via Turner. Flatiron ranks among the most important players in the field of civil works, mainly in transportation infrastructure. HOCHTIEF owns a 20% stake in Abertis, the leading international toll road operator. Thanks to its commitment to sustainability, HOCHTIEF has been listed in the Dow Jones Sustainability Indexes since 2006. Further information is available at <https://www.hochtief.com/news-media>
