

Press Release

Clarification:

No plans to build a Wall

There have been speculations in the media, HOCHTIEF might be interested in building a wall between the USA and Mexico.

We hereby declare:

At the Business Results Press Conference on February 28, HOCHTIEF did not make any statement on the construction of a wall between the USA and Mexico.

We explained that two American subsidiaries of HOCHTIEF operate in this market. These companies decide on a case-by-case basis whether or not they tender for a contract.

We emphasize that neither HOCHTIEF nor our U.S.-subsidiaries are pursuing plans to tender for this wall.

Turner is the No. 1 general builder in the U.S. Flatiron ranks among the most important players in the field of civil works, mainly in the transportation infrastructure. They are working in different market segments.

HOCHTIEF is one of the most global construction groups. The Group operates construction in the transportation, energy and social/urban infrastructure segments as well as in the contract mining, PPP and services businesses. With around 51,000 employees and a sales volume of about EUR 20 billion in FY 2016, HOCHTIEF is represented globally. With CIMIC, the Group is market leader in Australia. In the USA, HOCHTIEF is the No. 1 general builder via Turner. Flatiron, ranks among the most important players in the field of civil works, mainly in the transportation infrastructure.
